1 - BIBLIOTECA DEL MUSEO REGIONALE DI SCIENZE NATURALI

Key terms: library; natural sciences; document delivery; Geo-Ref; periodicals

The library of Museo Regionale di Scienze Naturali, a branch of Regione Piemonte, was opened to the public in 1994. Its users are mainly students from natural sciences faculties and fine arts academy, researchers, professors and people who are interested in natural sciences. At present the library owns about 15.000 modern monographs, 2000 serials (1000 of which are current) and 6000 ancient monographs of the Spinola collection (entomology, zoology and travel books published from 1550 to 1850). There are about 3000 monographs and 200 serials which deal with environment, geology, mineralogy and palaeontology.

Since 2000 the library has become part of the national bibliographic system (SBN) and all its publications can be found in this data base.

All the books can be consulted and photocopied according to the regulations in force, while they cannot be loaned. The loan between libraries is possible only if the requested material is owned only by our library.

Since last year the library has joined the interlibraries document delivery system NILDE and we are currently putting our periodicals into the ACNP catalogue.

Our patrons have six computers at their disposal and can query on-line both the "Zoological Record" and "Geo-Ref".

The majority of our monographs and serials are obtained by exchange programs which involve more than 500 Italian and foreign institutions such as the Natural Sciences Museums in London and Paris, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, the Field Museum in Chicago : we send our publications (Bollettino, Monographs, Catalogues, Proceedings, exhibitions Guides) to these institutions and they send us back material of the same kind and value.
