

Carta del reticolo fluviale e dell'ubicazione dei campioni - Drainage and sample sites map

Tav. 1

The map displays the Campania region with its administrative boundaries and major cities: Napoli, Caserta, Benevento, and Avellino. The coastline of the Mare Tirreno is shown to the west. The map is overlaid with a grid of sampling points, categorized by color: red dots represent data from the 1996-98 campaign, and black dots represent data from the 1998-99 campaign. Blue lines indicate the hydrography of the region, including rivers like the Volturno, Liri, and Volturno. A legend in the top right corner explains the symbols used. An inset map in the top right corner shows the location of Campania within Italy. A scale bar and a compass rose are located in the bottom center.
